

Roly Interprets The Signs

Key Word: Signs

Key Verse: "There will be signs in the sun, the moon, and the stars, and on the earth distress among nations, confused by the roaring of the sea and the waves." Luke 21:25

Roly lay on the stone floor with his head on his paws. He had lived in the Dogs' Home all his short life. He had a vague memory of a warm mother dog, but his next memory was of being pulled out of a river in a dripping sack. Then he had arrived at the Dogs' Home.

Although he quite liked it in the Dogs' Home because there were lots of other dogs of all different shapes and sizes, Roly often felt lonely and bored. But today was different. Today Roly had wakened with a feeling that something special was going to happen.

"Today's the day for one of you," one of the humans had remarked. "I wonder whose lucky day it is today?" And although he didn't know what that meant, Roly hoped and hoped it would be his lucky day.

Soon all the different dogs began to get very excited, and Roly was aware of great anticipation in the air.

After a while, the door to the kennels opened and a little girl came and knelt at Roly's cage. "Oh, look!" she cried to her brothers. "This is a dear little dachshund. Let's have him!"

Roly knew that he wanted desperately to stay with her. He sat in front of her with his head on one side, and gazed beseechingly into her eyes. Then he gently began to lick her hand through the wires off the cage.

The girl turned to her parents. "Please," she said putting her hand into her father's and gazing into his eyes just as Roly had gazed into hers.

Roly wondered whether he had interpreted the signs right. Was this a special day for him? Or had he got it wrong? He lay down again and put his head on his paws, but he kept one eye on the little family.

The girl's mother said, "He does look awfully well behaved. And they say all the dogs are house-trained. Let's take him!"

And Roly knew that the signs were right and he was about to begin a new life.
